The weatherman bestowed on us some warm weather for a change, can't say much about the wind but what the hell it's Cavalier on a hill. At least nobody complained that it was cold. I hope everybody enjoyed being bombarded by the dam cicadas, you know that if they bother you, you can eat them deep fried, or roasted on a stick on your charcoal grill. Make sure that you remove the wings they have a habit of sticking between your teeth. The match went well this month, no brain farts. We did have a little excitement at the 200 yd line. When the ram setters were down range they found what they thought was hawk feathers and what was left of a wing. I tell you, there was 24 people ready to hang the SOB that shot our hawk. I told Forrest when he goes down range to paint to bring me a feather. All hate and blood pressure was subsided when we found out that it was just a turkey feather. I hope it was just an animal kill. I think Forrest did a great job painting the rams for us, it really speeds things up. Frances brought her famous triple chocolate heart stopping brownies. Some of our better shooters didn't get off to a good start, so they started munching on brownies, sugar spike. It was good to see Dick Kennedy back with us. With all the wind he shot a great score of 36, Jay Mason took second, T. White took third, Augie Kowalik took tenth, Jay Hayden took fifteenth and Ed Cunningham took the (OF) class.

In seventeen years the bugs will be back, some of us won't be around, some of us will be too old to give a dam, the rest will just have to put up with them. See you at the July Ram Bash. Don't forget Fairfax Rod and Gun Club has their Ram Bash on Sunday June 23rd.
